1922 LEADS IN TRACK MEET

H. Zinsser Individual Champion

Breaking the record for the running high jump and winning first place in six events, the freshmen won the preliminary track meet Saturday morning with a score of 55 1-3 points. 1919 came second with 34 5-6 and 1920 was a close third, scoring 32 5-6 points. 1921 was fourth with a total of 5 points.

F. Robbins and M. L. Thurman Break Records

Four first places and numerous seconds gave H. Zinsser '20 a lead of one and one third points in the race for the individual championship. Her score is 24 1-3 and F. Robbins '22 is second with a score of 23 points, 10 of which were won by breaking the record for the running high jump. The record, held by H. Harris '17, was 4 ft. 4.5 in., and Miss Robbins broke this by a jump of 4 ft. 4.6 in. A. Stiles '19, holds third place for the championship, her score, 19 1-3.

M. L. Thurman '19, made the only other record of the meet, breaking the hurl ball record held by M. Scattergood '17. Miss Scattergood's record, which was then the world record, was 85 ft. 10 in., now broken by Miss Thurman's throw of 89 ft. 1 in.

Good time was made in the relays won by '19 and '22. 1922's time was 40 seconds and as the record is 38.2, it seems possible that this record, also, may be broken in the final meet.

"Pirates of Penzance" this Weekend

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN OPERETTA STAGED OFF COAST OF CORNWALL.

The rocky coast of Cornwall is the scene for the "Pirates of Penzance," the operetta by Gilbert and Sullivan, to be given by the Glee Club, Friday and Saturday evenings. H. Johnson, '19, is leader, and I. Arnold, '20, accompanist. L. Beckwith, '21, is designing the scenery and E. Kimbrough, '21, the costumes. The operetta is being coached by Mr. Joseph Fox, coach for the Savoy Players of Philadelphia.

The plot centers about Frederic, a young nobleman, who has been apprenticed to a pirate band through a mistake of his nurse Ruth, "the piratical maid of all work," and Mabel, General Stanley's young daughter. The pirate band, led by A. Thorndike, '19, as chief, falls in love with the other three daughters and their friends. General Stanley refuses to allow the marriage until he discovers that the pirates are "noblemen gone wrong."

F. Fuller, '19, who was the miser last year in the "Chimes of Normandy," will be Frederic. The part of Ruth will be taken by M. Foote, '21, and H. Hunting, '19, will be the General. L. Grimm, '22, is Mabel, his youngest daughter. J. Peabody, '19; Z. Boynton, '20; E. Kimbrough, '21; M. Southall, '21; and M. P. Kirkland, '21, will have the other solo parts.

Tickets are being sold by M. Tyler, '19 Llysfran, seventy-five cents and a dollar, fifty cents and seventy-five cents for members of the college.

Loan Pushes On With $27,150

With $27,150 towards its goal of double the quota, $25,000, the Liberty Loan booth opened again this afternoon after the rally held in Taylor Hall. 1921 leads the class quotas with $6150, 1919 follows with $2350, 1920 with $600 and 1922 with $450.

Dean Taft spoke at the rally, as did Mrs. John O. Miller, president of the Woman's Suffrage Association in Pennsylvania, and patriotic singing followed the speeches.

President Thomas to Give Reception to Juniors May 14.

President Thomas will give a reception to the Juniors on Wednesday, May 14. On account of her absence from the college next year, President Thomas will be unable to give her usual "senior reception," and instead is giving a reception this spring in accordance with a desire expressed by the Junior Class.

TRIP TO NEW ENGLAND COLLEGES PROFITABLE

Committee Gets Ideas for B. M. Students' Building

Returning from a trip to inspect the Students' Buildings of four New England colleges made for the purpose of getting suggestions for the Bryn Mawr Students' Building, M. Martin, '19, said that the committee, consisting of President Thomas, Dean Taft, Mr. de Forest, college architect; Miss Watson, college business manager, and five undergraduates, had got many good ideas. The undergraduates were M. Martin, '19; F. Day, '19; L. Kellogg, '20; M. Morrison, '21, and C. Skinner, '22.

The committee visited Mt. Holyoke, Smith, Radcliffe and Wellesley between Thursday noon and Saturday night, and were met by committees at each college, including presidents of Mt. Holyoke and Wellesley and the deans of Smith and Radcliffe.

Best Students' Building at Mt. Holyoke

The best-equipped students' building was at Mt. Holyoke, which the committee visited Friday, after spending the night in Springfield. Besides the theatre proper, whose flat auditorium floor was the only undesirable feature, there was a large room in the basement for dancing, an idea which the committee wishes to incorporate into the Bryn Mawr building. A kitchen, three little tea-rooms, and clever arrangements for storing scenery were other attractions. The committee hopes to have a large storage room for stage properties in the basement and a smaller room near the stage. The building at Smith, where they motored in the afternoon, was unsatisfactory because not up-to-date, although it contained a good academic stage.

Meet Dr. Baker; Lose Miss Watson

Dr. George P. Baker, of Workshop 47 at Harvard, showed the committee the Radcliffe stage on Saturday, told them why it was poor, and explained to them his plans for a theatre.

When the committee had motored to Wellesley, they discovered that through oversight of M. Martin, business manager of the trip, nicknamed the "nursery governess," Miss Watson had been left in Boston, and had to follow by train. A new administration building, designed by the father of F. Day, '19, was being put up at Wellesley.

Ice cream sodas, proposed at intervals during the trip and seven course dinners at different hotels, are emphasized by members of the committee. The trip ended officially Saturday night, when some of the undergraduates spent the rest of the week-end at Miss Martin's home in Cambridge, and some returned to Bryn Mawr.

Varsity Defeats Ursinus Tennis Team

WINS THREE OUT OF FOUR MATCHES

Bryn Mawr won both matches in the doubles and tied Ursinus College in the singles of the first Varsity tennis tournament played here Saturday afternoon. The players for Varsity were, A. Thorndike '19, Z. Boynton '20, K. Cauldwell '20, and K. Gardner '22.

In singles, K. Gardner won her match with Miss Davis by a score of 6-4, 6-2. Miss Gardner played a swift game in the best form seen that afternoon on the courts. Z. Boynton was defeated by Miss Hook in a slow lobbing game ending in a score of 6-0, 6-3 for Ursinus.

Both the doubles matches were close, Ursinus' strong point being net play, while Varsity excelled in serving. This was particularly noticeable in the match played by K. Cauldwell and A. Thorndike vs. Miss Davis and Miss Closson. Both Bryn Mawr players had strong serves and swift return strokes, but these were stopped at the net repeatedly by Miss Davis' accurate shots.

The scores were:
Z. Boynton, K. Gardner defeated Miss Hook, Miss Chandler, 6-4, 6-4.

A. Thorndike, K. Cauldwell, defeated Miss Davis, Miss Closson, 6-3, 6-3.

B. WEAVER A. A. PRESIDENT K. TOWNSEND, VICE-PRESIDENT

Three Nominations Made Elections

B. Weaver, '20 was elected president of the Athletic Association, and K. Townsend, '20, vice-president and indoor manager, Monday. E. Cope, '21, is treasurer. All three nominations, which were practically unanimous were made elections. Miss Weaver was treasurer of the Association her Sophomore year, and during the past year was outdoor manager. Miss Townsend was secretary this year, and Miss Cope, treasurer.

The result of the vote for college song-leader was a tie, L. Kellogg and G. Hess receiving fifty-five votes apiece in the nominations. Elections of a song-leader, a treasurer from 1922 and an out-door manager from 1921 were held to-day after the NEWS went to press. K. Woodward and E. Cecil were nominated in 1921's straw vote, and 1922 voted for K. Stiles, A. Nicoll, E. Anderson and R. Neal.

DR. SHAW PRAISES B. M. SPIRIT

"The good sportsmanship in the May Day revels carried on in the rain showed a spirit that will meet cheerfully life's responsibilities and joys," said Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, chairman of the Woman's National Council of Defence, who conducted the chapel service on May Day. In every government department where Bryn Mawr women worked, according to Dr. Shaw, they received fullest praise. "Here in college you get the training and breadth of vision," she said, "that make Bryn Mawr a great name in the world."

Competition for Review Editorship

Another departure from "Tipyn o' Bob" tradition is made by the "Bryn Mawr Review," in opening a competition for an editor from 1921 and one from 1922, instead of appointing them. Competitors are asked to apply to D. Pitkin, 37 Rockefeller, tomorrow, and Friday at 1.30.

To be an English shark is not necessary, since ability to get material from other people will be an important requirement for editorship. The first assignment will be to get contributions from other people.

B. M. Students Visit Cheyney-School for Colored Teachers.

Eleven undergraduates visited the Cheyney School for negro teachers last Saturday. The negro students cooked and served lunch in the model dining room. Afterwards the Bryn Mawr students were shown through the model class-rooms and orphanage, where the negro girls practice teaching. Later the negroes sang and recited poetry in the chapel.

Entered as second class matter September 26, 1914, at the post office at Bryn Mawr, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Margaret Ballou was assistant managing editor for this issue.

Contrary to precedent THE NEWS Board will not take on any Freshman Editor this spring. Plans are being made for a new form of competition in the fall.

The phrase, an "all-round person," belongs to that category of happy generalities which are above the need of definition. It would seem to include good sportsmanship, executive ability, faithfulness, and the various other qualities which one would like one's ideal to possess, summed up with comfortable vagueness as "all-roundedness."

But the very difficulty of defining this term proves it an unsatisfactory qualification for a prize. This year's happy outcome of the annual "Sunny Jim" controversy, is one more case in point. It was the unanimous wish of the college this year to change the interpretation of "faithfulness" from that held in the past three years. Is it not timely to ask that a more specific definition be made of the conditions of this prize than is furnished in the generalization "all-roundedness?"

It is to Dig

Spades were almost as important implements of war as bayonets. But while the bayonets have retired with honorable discharge, the spades work on. They have stopped digging at the Bryn Mawr farm, not because they are unnecessary, but because they can be organized more efficiently into Land Army units. They must help produce this year twice as much food to ship abroad as they did last, and they need hands behind them. Shoulder spades!

The NEWS wishes to correct an error that occurred in last week's Alumnae Notes. The editor wrote in reference to the "Vers Libre" of the class of 1908—"The Envoi, 'Too bad we're a year too late, still the same old 1908,' will have a familiar ring to the class of 1909." This by mistake was transcribed as "To the class of 1909 they have issued the warning."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(The Editors do not hold themselves responsible for opinions expressed in this column.)

To the Editor of the College News:

If there are any Bryn Mawr seniors (or alumnae) who are thinking of studying law next year, it may interest them to know that Yale University has recently opened its Law School to women. No other law school of equal rank east of Chicago admits women at present. If college women show that they appreciate the opportunity offered by Yale, Harvard and Columbia will undoubtedly follow her lead. On the other hand, if few women present themselves, Yale herself may backslide. Such things have happened.

Margaret Franklin, '08.

To the Editor of the College News:

You have mentioned in your columns a revival of the interest in the students' building. Have any definite plans for raising the money matured, beyond the one of the Seniors giving Liberty Bonds that you mentioned? How much money is actually needed before the building can be started, or have the committee all the necessary money in hand?

INTERESTED.

NO MORE COMPULSORY CLASSES AT AMHERST

Class attendance is no longer compulsory at Amherst. The English universities system has been adopted, in which attendance "rests on trust of the intellectual curiosity of the student."

IN THE NEW BOOK ROOM

The American soldier is the subject of a new book by Helen Davenport, ex-'06 (Mrs. Herbert Adams Gibbons). A Little Gray Home in France tells of the men Mrs. Gibbons has come to know in her home, which was always open to a soldier when he could come visiting. It is not a book of horrors or statistics, but of the "dough-boys" feelings about France, and of what France thinks of him. The Little Gray Home was a little chateau near St. Nazaire, which was near Base 1 of the American Army during the summer of 1918. Mrs. Gibbons has devoted herself to the American soldiers; she has travelled to camps all over France, speaking for the Y. M. C. A. and visited Alsatian and British fronts. (The Century Company, 1918.)

The Little Grandmother of the Russian Revolution. Reminiscences and Letters of Catharine Breshkovsky, which contain an account of her childhood and youth, as translated and condensed from the Yiddish of the "Jewish Daily Forward." It also includes letters describing her prison experiences and her exile in Siberia. (Little, Brown & Co., 1917.)

Jamsie, by Ethel Sidgwick, is a further account, told in the form of letters, of the characters who first appeared in her novel Hatchways. (Small, Maynard & Co., 1918.)

The Arrow of Gold, Joseph Conrad's latest novel, which the critics have called "purely romantic," has been more in demand in three weeks than all Mr. Conrad's other novels in over four years, according to the New York Tribune. "Dona Rita is one of his most fascinating characters." The story is laid in Marseilles and on the Spanish Coast in the late 19th century when Don Carlos Bourbon made an attempt for the throne of Spain. The novel is concerned with the love story of a young sea captain and Dona Rita, heiress to the fortune of Henry Allegre, supporter of the Pretender.

Letters of Susan Hale, edited by Caroline P. Atkinson, and with an introduction by her brother, Edward Everett Hale. (Marshall Jones Co., 1919.)

The Farmer's Bride, by Charlotte New, a modern English poetess, contains poems originally published in the Nation, the Westminster Gazette, etc. (The Poetry Book Shop, London, 1916.)

Self and Self-Management, by Arnold Bennet, includes six "essays about existing," "Running Away from Life," "Some Axioms About War-Work," "The Diary Habit," "A Dangerous Lecture to a Young Woman," "The Complete Fuser" and "The Meaning of Frocks."

The Burgomaster of Stilemonde, by Maurice Maeterlinck, a play of the conflict of two ideals, the Belgian ideal of self-sacrifice and the German ideal of might. Translated by Alexander Teixeira de Mattos. (Dodd, Mead & Co., 1919.)

The Way of Martha and the Way of Mary, by Stephen Graham, an interpretation of the Russian church, in which "Eastern Christianity is associated with Mary's good part, and Western Christianity with the way of Martha and service." (Macmillan.)

Nocturne, Frank Swinnerton. (Doran.)

The Books of the Small Souls—a series of four novels by Louis Couperus, "the foremost Dutch novelist," according to his translator, Alexander Teixeira de Mattos. The four novels: Small Souls, The Latter Life, The Twilight of Souls and Dr. Adriaan, "one of the most masterly stories this generation has produced," describe the fortunes of the Van Lowe family.

BELGIAN RELIEF WORKER SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Tells Plans for Edith Cavell Home for Nurses in Brussels

Miss Julie Helen Heyneman, Chairman of California House for Wounded Soldiers, spoke on her experiences in Belgium, and the plans for founding the Edith Cavell Home for Nurses in Chapel Friday morning. Miss Heyneman is also chairman of Kitchener House for Wounded British Soldiers.

Relief work in Belgium was greatly hampered by the poor hospital equipment, said Miss Heyneman, until the Americans began sending help. She chose to continue the Edith Cavell Home, which had already been running three and a half years as a memorial to Edith Cavell, an honor to the Queen and an expression of American gratitude for Belgium's attitude toward the war.

"I don't want to appeal to the Americans again," concluded Miss Heyneman, "and I promised those who sent me out that every contribution I accepted must be voluntary."

The real patriot helps to PAY for his liberty.

FETE CHAMPETRE HELPS TO RAISE PHILADELPHIA QUOTA FOR FRENCH CHAIR

Forty Victory Bonds were added to Philadelphia's contribution towards the endowment of the chair of French, as a result of interest aroused in the Alumnae drive by the Fete Champetre given last Wednesday in the cloisters. Philadelphia has now raised 83 of the 200 $100 bonds which constitute her quota. The Bryn Mawr Club of New York City has raised $2000 of a quota of $20,000, at a dinner given at the club.

The local chairmen who have been appointed in various cities to conduct the drive are:

TURKISH EDUCATION

DISCUSSED BY MR. BERGE
LAST WEDNESDAY

Mr. J. Kingsley Berge, professor at the International College of Smyrna, spoke informally to members of the Christian Association in Denbigh sitting room Wednesday night. Mr. Berge compared the colleges of the east with those in America and emphasized the need for American teachers in the Turkish colleges.

Six weeks in a Moslem home gave Mr. Berge an opportunity to meet the Moslem women and to realize their ignorance and their attitude towards education. Many of them are illiterate, but they are eager for contact with American women, even with those who do not speak the Turkish language. Officials of the Turkish Government have requested that Americans come to Turkey to teach the Turkish girls in order that they may become teachers in the schools and colleges.

Besides the college in which Mr. Berge is a professor, there is, in Smyrna, the American Institution for Girls and also the first kindergarten opened in Turkey. Constantinople has three colleges, Robert and Beirut colleges for men, and for women the Girls' College of Constantinople. Mr. Berge urged that Bryn Mawr make the most of the opportunity for educational work in Turkey.

BOOK COLLECTOR ENTERTAINS ENGLISH CLUB AT HOME

Exhibits Valuable Manuscripts

An opportunity to examine rare editions and manuscripts of old books was given to members of the English Club Friday afternoon when they visited the home of Mr. Edward Newton, book collector, at "Oak Knoll," in Daylesford, on the Main Line.

Mr. Newton gave a short talk on William Blake, whom he pronounced "one of the greatest imaginative artists that England ever produced, and, as an artist comparable to Michael Angelo." Mr. Newton read from various interesting copies of Blake, which the poet himself had engraved by hand, among them Swinburne's copy of the "Poetical Sketches," which he received from W. M. Rossetti.

Afterwards, Mr. Newton led his guests into the iron-walled rooms of his library to see the rest of his collection, which is so valuable that the door of the room must be padlocked with a strong vault. Among the many rare volumes on exhibition were—the original manuscript of Lamb's "Dream Children"; Keats's copy of the first edition of the "Faery Queen"; a presentation volume of "Rasselas," "from Sam Johnson"; an edition of Caxton dating from 1741, and a priceless first edition of Herrick.

JUNIOR FIRST TEAM VICTORIOUS

Defeats Freshmen 30-16

1920 won a strenuous game from 1922 in the basketball preliminaries played Tuesday. Playing was speedy and team work good, but both sides often failed to score on account of hasty shooting. 1920's passing was effectual, D. Rogers and M. Mall being swift and sure, while 1922's strong point was the dribbling done by F. Robbins and A. Nicoll. M. Carey's deliberate aim gained the first goal for 1920, and another basket made by M. Mall followed. Two goals by F. Robbins brought up '22's score, and the first half ended with a score of two field goals for each side.

More accurate shooting marked the second half, K. Townsend making three baskets with long clean throws. 1922 scored three field goals, but missed numerous chances by fumbles at the critical moment. 1920's more careful shooting and infallible accuracy in taking free throws piled up a score which the speed and hard fighting of the freshmen could not resist.

M. Brown Heads Book-Shop Again

Miriam Brown, '20, has been appointed head of the Book-shop for the second year. Miss Brown has worked in the Book-shop since her Sophomore year. She will be assisted by Cecile Bolton, '21, who assisted her this year, and by Henrietta Baldwin, '21.

FRESHMEN LEAD ON THIRD

Defeating the Juniors yesterday with a score of 18 to 12, 1922 took the lead in the third team preliminaries.

Quick passing and effective shooting on the part of the Freshmen forwards, which pushed them ahead in the first half, was largely responsible for the victory. In the second half the Junior guards kept the ball almost entirely out of their territory, but the light blue forwards, shooting wildly, failed to seize the advantage.

General Literature Quiz Baffling

"Who tried to extract sunshine out of cucumbers" was one of the problems over which about eighty puzzled students racked their brains in the General Literature Examination yesterday evening. The test covered the literature of the world from Confucius to Ibsen, and besides giving a list of 15 writers to be placed in their proper centuries, and 24 characters to be identified, included the following questions:

1. Name ten lunatics in literature.
2. What literary associations have; The Rue Morgue? Roaring Camp?
3. Whose gory visage was sent down what stream to what shore?
4. Who went once a year to cool him on the floor?
5. What story was left half told?
6. Who went upstairs to put on her scarlet stockings with silver clocks?

Dr. Chew will discontinue his class in "The Bible as Literature" until next year. He will take up the course after Thanksgiving and will begin with the New Testament.

1919 VICTORS OVER 1921—28-8

Senior's First Team Easily Defeats Red in First Encounter

The Sophomores fell before 1919's first team by a score of 28-8 last Tuesday afternoon in the first basketball game of the season.

Slow playing, constant fouling and many held balls characterized the first half. With the exception of the good passing between E. Lanier, '19, and J. Peabody, '19, there was little teamwork on either side. The score was 6-2, 1919 leading at the end of the first half. The Seniors came back with a rush, M. Tyler and E. Lanier making several goals in the first few minutes of the second half. The Sophomore team threw wildly and lacked co-operation. Many times the red forwards missed chances for goals by bad passing.

Line-up:—

1919 ..... 1921
E. Lanier ..... F. .... J. Peyton
M. Tyler ..... F. .... B. Schurman

Goals from fouls—E. Lanier, 2.

LATIN NOT REQUIRED FOR REORGANIZED YALE

Latin has been dropped as an entrance requirement for Yale, with a definite knowledge of American history to take its place, as one of the changes in the University organization. A dean of students will be another innovation, whose work will consist of the supervision of student morale and undergraduate activities. The various schools of the University are to more closely correlated.

"To place the University on a more efficient and democratic basis" is what the corporation purposes to do by means of the new plans.

WHITE FLAG WAVES

The scornful rebuff given Vassar by Princeton in the debate fracas last winter, appears to be atoned for, according to the Vassar Miscellany News.

"Princeton appears to atone!" says the News. "Her graduating class has voted Vassar its favorite college for the female of the species. Let us not debate the point with them."

Registration Notice.

Dean Taft will be in her office beginning this week to advise students about their courses for next year. The Sophomores are asked to come Thursday and Friday and the Freshmen the following week. Students are asked to sign for 10-minute appointments on the Bulletin Board outside the Dean's office.

She described a scene in a French village where she found the peasants eating toothpaste from American comfort-kits on cake and bread, and relishing it as a form of butter.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The Juniors have voted to wear their rings with the stones turned in until Commencement day. 1920 is returning to the tradition broken by 1917 of wearing class rings turned in before senior year.

May 9 will be the last day for physical examinations.

AUTHOR OF RADICAL BOOKS ON CHURCH, WILL SPEAK HERE NEXT WEEK.

Dr. Harry F. Ward, of Union Theological Seminary, who has been called the ablest modern exponent of social Christianity, will speak in Taylor next Wednesday evening under the Social Service Committee of the C. A.

Largely through the influence of his books, Dr. Ward has been able to triumph over reactionary conservatism in the church. Because of his alleged defense of Bolshevism, the sale of his books was discontinued by the graded Sunday School Syndicate, but after a controversy, in which he uncompromisingly stated his opinions, the books were reinstated.

When the Soviets were driving out all preachers and missionaries in Russia, one missionary drew out a copy of Dr. Ward's "Social Program for the Church." After reading it the Soviet leaders declared, "If these are the things that you have come to do, welcome!"

Dr. Ward was considered one of the best speakers at the National Student Conference of the Y. W. C. A., which M. L. Thurman, '19, attended as Bryn Mawr's representative.

COMMUNITY WEEK IN JUNE

Widely Advertised Drive to Raise Funds for Center on Membership Basis.

A seven-day campaign to raise next year's budget of $15,000 will be held at the Community Center the first week in June. The drive will take the form of a Community Week, to be advertised widely in advance by store-window displays, delivery wagon placards and special slides at the Bryn Mawr movies.

A mass-meeting on community work, probably at the Bryn Mawr Theatre, with slides, a speaker and music will be the climax of the drive. During the first half of the week open house will be kept at the Milestone, the School Building, and Preston, and demonstrations will be given of all the kinds of work done. The week will close with a canvass for membership pledges, which may be taken out at $2, $5 or more.

Menace of Mohammedanism Described

Islam a Challenge to Christianity, Says Dr. Zwemer

The problem of Mohammedanism, "the unsolved note of the peace conference," was outlined by Dr. S. M. Zwemer, missionary to Arabia, in chapel last Sunday evening.

"A hundred years after Mohammed's death," said Dr. Zwemer, "his name, coupled with that of God, was called from the minarets from Spain to China. Mohammedanism defies Christianity, and has defeated it in North Africa and in Asia Minor, where the mosques are converted churches."

"The ideals of Mohammed are the guiding star of the social system of the Mohammedan world, and in their wake follow illiteracy, child marriage and other social evils. Though there is no religion which so resembles Christianity, the longer one lives with Mohammedans the deeper the chasm is seen to be. There is no possibility of compromise between the two religions."

Dr. Zwemer declared the problem of Mohammedanism to be political as well as religious, since Islam is not a state church, but a church state. The Germans tried to mobilize its forces by stirring up a "holy" war, "made in Germany." All governments are obliged to have a Mohammedan policy, for the Mohammedans are still restless under Christian rule.

"As a result of the war in the East," concluded Dr. Zwemer, "the doors of the Near East are nailed open, and economic progress and enlightenment have begun. To meet the challenge thus extended, the Church must occupy the Near East with a new program of social, ethical and religious advancement."

SENIORS PLAN ANNUAL TRIP

A "1919 Camping Club," composed of the entire class, has been formed by the Seniors, who are arranging to hold a walking trip every year during the first two weeks in September. The hikes will begin next fall with a tramp through the White Mountains. A Ford will be requisitioned to carry supplies and provisions.

Each year the meeting place for the next fall will be chosen, and a permanent secretary will find out during the summer the names of those planning to take the next trip.

ITALY'S PART IN GREAT WAR NOT REALIZED, SAYS DR. CLARK

Piave Battle Made Germans Give Up

"Do you realize that the first ray of light for the Allies during the war came from Italy?" asked Professor Charles Upson Clark of the American Academy in Rome, telling in the chapel last Friday evening of Italy's part in the war and her present territorial difficulties. Professor Clark's lecture was followed by colored slides and maps.

The battle of the Piave, when Italy fought not only the enemy but nature, on mountains 50 degrees below zero, was one of the most important victories of the war. Austria's whole army was destroyed by a manoeuvre "like a pair of shears thrust into the Austrian valley." According to Ludendorff, said Dr. Clark, it was due to the Italian victory that Germany gave up so soon, fearing to meet the Italian army as it came north.

Italy Should Get Adriatic Claims

The port of Fiume, which voted it wanted to belong to Italy, would not be an important addition for the Jugo-Slavs, according to Dr. Clark, since they are primarily agricultural people. If Italy controlled Fiume, she would not, as some people fear, prevent small states from using the port, since Fiume's success depends on commerce from the inland. British commercial companies, said Dr. Clark, are a strong factor trying to keep Fiume from Italy, because they fear Italy will not give them favorable rates.

"Italy wants Albania to be independent," said Dr. Clark, "but wants to have a naval harbor there for protection as the United States has in Cuba. Italy is not Machiavellian, but ingenious in her politics. She has been badly treated throughout the nineteenth century. Now, while France's and England's annexations are not considered to be against the fourteen points, poor Italy is picked out as the one country likely to yield gracefully. In judging Italy," concluded Dr. Clark, "we should remember she has struggled for us, and feel not resentment, but gratitude."

More Ruined Villages Than Belgium

The refugees of Italy, said Dr. Clark, when he showed pictures of them, have not received help as have those of other countries because they will not carry their woes abroad. Italy has more ruined villages than Belgium, and almost as many as France.

Slides of the ruins of Saloniki, which was burned in 1917 and will not be rebuilt until 1919, were explained by Dr. Clark with the report that the Greek government saw in the catastrophe an opportunity to weed out the Spanish Jews who formed most of the Saloniki population before the war.

H. HILL DEFINES DEMOCRACY AS CONTACT WITH THE MASSES

"Of the ideals which are born of visions, perhaps the greatest is the realization of our democracy," said H. Hill, '21, in Vespers Sunday.

"Democracy should mean that the 'masses' as we call them, be given a general background and a chance to develop their own individual abilities. We should give the Poles and negroes and Italians in the country a chance to express some of the beauty that they are able to appreciate. It is not enough that they should have to concentrate all the happiness of a year into a week at Bates or a night at the opera. We must meet these people on their own ground and learn to come in contact with them, not as mechanisms for getting the garden spaded, but as human beings who have ideals and hopes, visions and dreams, like ours."

SPECIAL SERVICE AT ST. DAVIDS FOR THE SENIOR CLASS

A group of Seniors visited the old Saint Davids Church last Sunday afternoon and met the rector, Dr. Rogers, who held a service upon request especially for them. K. Tyler, '19, played the organ. Afterward Dr. Rogers promised the Senior class a service on May 25. The church holds ninety-five people and was built two hundred years ago.
